SYRUP STORIES

A New Program at Piti Theatre Company's 4th Annual SYRUP: One Sweet Performing Arts Festival

A Call For Theatre Companies, Schools, Drama Groups and Playwrights

Would you like to be part of a performing arts festival at Memorial Hall, a historic theatre in Shelburne Falls, MA the weekend of March 9 and 10?

Here's what you have to do:

Create a short play (or produce one that a local playwright has written for the event) that's 10 minutes or less using the following guidelines:

The words "syrup" and "sweet" have to be said in the piece AND 3 of the following 6 criteria have to be fulfilled:

1. The story connects to syrup or maple sugaring
2. at least one scene takes place outside
3. features multiple generations
4. is based on a story from the town where one member of your artistic team lives
5. allows a "non-human" being or object to speak or act
6. Features live music or singing

Help available on request:

We are available for playwriting/dramaturgical/"outside eye" assistance. We can also try to match you with other artists if you don't have your own "group."

Note for Playwrights: If you would like to submit a script, please email it as an attachment in .doc format to: submissions@ptco.org
Maximum is 10 pages, shorter scripts/sketches/texts are welcome.

Deadlines: If your group would like to participate, please notify us as soon as possible but at the latest January 7th. If you are submitting a script, the deadline is January 16th. Early submission is encouraged. Questions: jonathan@ptco.org
